

STACEY TOMPKINS
President & Owner
Tompkins Excavating

Stacey started her career in the hospitality industry as a food service director for Aramark managing the corporate dining facilities of several Wall Street clients. She is also a licensed real estate broker, but when her family's construction business started to grow, she transferred her business skills to a new industry.

She is now the majority owner of the firm, which specializes in commercial construction. Her strong management background has helped cultivate a company culture that retains top-quality employees. Since taking the helm in 2013, Stacey oversees every aspect of the business and revenues have tripled.

A leader in the community, Tompkins Excavating is involved with many charitable endeavors, including Support Connection, Habitat for Humanity, Putnam County School District, Jan Peek House, Community Cares of Mahopac, the Community Center of Northern Westchester, Project Yellow Light and the Lustgarten Foundation.

An active member of the Business Council of Westchester, the Building

Owners and Managers Association Westchester County and the Building and Realty Institute of Westchester and the Mid-Hudson Region, she has served on the board of directors at Hudson Valley Gateway Chamber of Commerce and has been an active committee member of the Gateway to Entrepreneurship (G2E) program at Westchester Community College.

Under her leadership, Tompkins Excavating has received a number of prestigious awards, including Business of the Year from the Hudson Valley Gateway Chamber of Commerce (2017), 914 Inc. magazine's Women in Business Award (2016), a Family-Owned Business Award from Westfair Communications (2016), a Cornerstone Award from Habitat for Humanity (2015) and a Mature Trailblazer award for Putnam County Chamber of Commerce (2013).

She earned a Bachelor of Science degree from SUNY Oneonta and lives in Putnam Valley with her husband and three sons, all of whom play an instrumental role in the family business.
